NEW LIFE SHOWN AT BARBOURVILLE

Everything Booming and Much Building in Progress

[The Evening Post]

The construction work on the Cumberland & Manchester railroad is going forward. The yards at Barbourville are being graded, ties and trestle timber are being put on the grade. Many coal and timber men looking for locations in the rich coal and timber fields of Clay and Leslie counties, which are tapped by this new road, are passing through the city.

The work of constructing pikes to all parts of the county and the Dixie Highway is under way.

The city is constructing a large modern brick and concrete school building and extending its macadam streets. Captain Golden has just received plans from his architect for a large modern hotel and garage, which he expects to construct here.

West Brothers, of Louisville, have bought fifteen acres of subdivision property near where the new railroad has located its machine shops and roundhouse, and will on Saturday, August 28, conduct a sale of this property. Many modern residences are under construction. The brick factory, hardwood factory and planing mill are running full time. New business firms are locating here and everything looks like new life on every hand.

A full line of Birth Stone rings now on display at D. C. Payne's Jewelry store. Our increased sales have proven that our customers certainly appreciate good goods at nominal prices, and the way our reconstructed stone rings and cameos have sold during the past year proves the correctness of our judgement as to the style of rings which are going to sell best.

During the coming year men's rings especially are going to be in big demand, these will be set with "Hellers" reconstructed rubies, genuine amethysts, genuine topaz, and in the ladies rings, Pink shell cameos and Coral cameos will be worn a great deal. All these are shown in the birth stone rings at our store. Don't fail to see them.

I shall endeavor to keep almost anything the people need, and will sell as cheap as you can find goods of same quality any where else in town.

Yours for business
E. W. Roach.

Why Is It

Some people can do most anything that they wish and there is nothing done or said, and that some others who may by chance do the same thing and all are ready to condemn them for it.

ASSERTS SHE WAS AFRAID OF SHADOW

Miss Underhill Says Tanlac Has Relieved Her Nervousness.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 27, 1915.

"I was so nervous I actually was afraid of my shadow," Miss Christin Underhill, assistant manager of the soda fountain at the Herman Straus Company's store, this city, told friends recently when relating her experience with Tanlac, the premier preparation.

"I had all sorts of hallucinations and worried about all kinds of trifles," Miss Underhill continued. "I knew that I was suffering from excessive nervousness and was in a terribly run-down condition. I tried many medicines without being benefited. I finally decided to try Tanlac."

"To say that I was benefited would be expressing myself in too mild a manner. I was astonished at the result. After taking only a few doses I noticed a marked improvement. My entire nervous system seemed to have undergone a wonderful change. My sleep became restful and refreshing and my appetite reappeared."

"Really," she laughingly added, "I ate so ravenously that I was afraid my board bill would be raised."

Tanlac, the premier preparation, is now on sale in Barbourville, at The Herndon Drug Co's Drug store. adv.

Swain Shows Coming.

W. I. Swain Shows will be the special attraction at night during Fair week.

The famous W. I. Swain Show Company is scheduled to appear at Barbourville for one week, commencing Monday August 30, and give night performances of a widely diversified character throughout the week. This popular organization is primarily the outcome of the insurrection in the gigantic theatrical trust and represents the faction that took independent means to present big city attractions at nominal prices of admission in the smaller towns, there the trust arbitrary methods have debared even periodical visits by meritorious attractions.

The W. I. Swain Show Company is known from coast to coast as the largest and best equipped tented organization of its kind in America. Its colossal "Kant Leak" pavilion has a seating capacity of upwards of two thousand people and presents all metropolitan successes in a manner characteristic of big city productions.

This season's offerings by the Swain Show Company includes sensational melodrama, historical and society plays, musical, comedy, and farcial success. Among this year's biggest hits might be mentioned, "Belle of the Mountain Trail," the last word in heroic romance; and a dramatization of Marie Corell's most popular novel, "THELMA," which is now creating in its dramatized form a veritable furor in the cultured centers of fashion throughout the country; in fact, tens of thousand women patrons of the W. I. Swain Show Company have asked for its production.

tra, constitute a strong musical feature with this season's shows. The band will play free open air concerts in front of the tent every evening at 7:10 the doors open immediately after the concert. Performance starts at 8:10. Admission very cheap.

Along Educational Line

Mr. Editor—As no one else seems inclined to take advantage of the columns you so graciously offered teachers, I will attempt "to brake the ice."

I think our work in the schools of the country should be more practical, I believe education in this country has been along wrong lines, instead of teaching our young men and young women a lot of Scholastic lore, we should teach them such things as they can make useful in life, and thus increase their creative power for we must confess as a people or as a nation that our consuming power is much greater than our creating power.

We should teach such things as will enable our pupils to earn an honest living for themselves and those dependent upon them at least so they will be able to grapple with the problems of life and above all teach them to appreciate honest labor, for we must earn what we get or otherwise we will not appreciate what we have or know how to use it wisely. We should inculcate such lessons into the mind and life of our pupils as will enable them to originate and produce useful service, we as citizens in every walk should do more to exalt honest labor. This is our duty in the homes, the churches and especially in the schools, it is the duty of schools to exalt honest service rather than encourage our pupils to seek for easy jobs in life where the reward is great and the service small. I believe that it was Horace Greely that said:

"If any man fancies that there is some easy way of gaining a dollar than by squarely earning it he has lost the clew to his way through this mortal labyrinth and henceforth must wander as chance may dictate. Just look around us and see who are the street loafers and country idlers many of them are pupils of our schools waiting to get a good job with a big salary and little service probably with a diploma and can't do any thing that is very practical in life.

The fading flowers of pleasures, Spring spontaneous from the soil; But the real harvest treasures, Yields alone to patient toil.

Disagreeable Calomel is Yielding to Pleasant Liv-Ver-Lax.

Physicians generally agree that the nauseating, unpleasant effects of calomel are due to the undesirably violent action it has on the system. For a long while various substitutes have been tried, but it was only recently that the really wonderful remedy LIV-VER-LAX was prepared successfully by L. K. Grisby.

LIV-VER-LAX has all the good, and none of the bad effects of Calomel. It is a necessity in every home, always being ready to cleanse the sluggish liver and bile clogged system, with no unpleasant after effects.

TO VOTERS OF 34th JUDICIAL DISTRICT

Hon. J. B. Snyder Thanks
Voters For Support

Williamsburg, Ky, Aug 14, 1915.
To the voters of 34th Judicial District.

I take this method of thanking the voters of the 34th Judicial District, who so loyally stood by me and gave me their support in the recent primary at which time I received the Republican Nomination of the office of Commonwealth's Attorney of this District by a magnificent majority. Seven years and one half experience as the incumbent of this important office has taught me that one of experience can render more efficient service to the people by reason of such experience. And I now say to the people of this District as a whole that I shall attend studiously to the duties of this office and see that the people's rights are properly protected and crime properly prosecuted in the courts of this district.

The people have shown by their votes that they will stand by and support an officer who is fearless in discharge of his duties as I have been, and I beg to say that the people will be supported by me in my actions and conduct as an official by rigid enforcement of the criminal laws in this district.

Again thanking you, I am,

Yours very truly,

J. B. Snyder.

PRESERVE FOREST LANDS

Forest Conservation Concerns Both
City and Farm.

Many dwellers in towns and cities feel great interest in forestry and would be glad to give active aid to the cause. Some are doing so by the improvement of forest lands which they own, but there are greater numbers who are not able to do this but who greatly desire to enjoy the forests and to help along any movement tending to their improvement. The preservation of forests for natural scenery; to check the winds and hold back the waters; to stop erosion of valuable farm lands; to harbor birds and animals; to produce materials for building and manufacturing are matters which concern city people as well as those who dwell on farms.

The obligation to protect the forests rests upon all and the opportunity to enjoy them should be enjoyed by all. Cities should own forest parks in which the design should be to get away from the conventional and costly style of landscape gardening now so common in city parks.

Such parks, if made as natural as possible, would cost far less to establish and maintain than other parks and would serve many purposes. They would help to arouse an interest in forestry and to show its practicability. They would afford means of recreation and study, supplementing the courses in school. If the agricultural experiment stations in the different states were enabled to co-operate in the establishment and maintenance of such forest parks, the arrangement would no doubt be mutually helpful, since the work would be started along forestry rather than ornamental lines and its permanency would be reasonably sure.

Forest conservation to many people means the saving of mature trees and nothing more. Real conservation takes into account all that is of value, also that which has a potential value. Correct ideas, regarding values of forest products need an entire re-construction, as upon a proper conception of what constitutes the most essential part of a forest rests the fundamental doctrine of conservation. To save that which is worth but little and to waste that which is full of possibilities shows wrong ideas regarding values, but examples of this kind are very common. Almost every one appreciates the worth of a large oak, walnut or pine tree, but to most people a seedling of the same species is nothing but a weed. It seems hard for any one, who has not studied the rate of growth of trees, to realize that a mature tree makes but little growth and is worth saving only as long as it remains sound, while a thrifty young tree is growing into value at a rapid rate. But little that is really worth while will be done in the care of our timber trees until we come to realize that forest conservation means the saving of trees of all ages and sizes. However, it is gratifying to note that the interest in forestry is growing constantly and that the number of trees planted each year is increasing.

AT THE PEEP O'DAY

Robinson's Famous Show
Will Arrive

Older people are inclined to laugh at the small boy who arises at 4 a. m. on circus day and hies to the railroad yards to see the show unload. But if they only knew it little Johnnie has the best of the game. He is able to see many things that the older ones miss, things that are really interesting, even thrilling.

Few people realize the wonderful system that enables a big organization like Robinson's Famous Shows to be moved from one city to another, get ready and give two performances in one day, and get out of town without friction or accident, leaving a tent stake of the endless paraphernalia as a reminder of their visit.

It is marvelous to watch the skilful unloading of the enormous wagons, dens and tableaux without a hitch or moment's delay; to see the big handsome horses take their places like clockwork, to see the elephants push wagons in place, lift immense center poles and perform other duties where their measureless strength comes into play.

Older people might follow Little Johnnie's example with profit. Just try it once, on the morning of September 9th when Robinson's Famous Shows will arrive by the L. & N. railroad, and give two performances in this city, at 2:00 and 8:00 p. m.

SINGLETON

On Tuesday evening August 24th at Five o'clock, the spark of life left the body of James C. Singleton, and his spirit sped to the realms beyond.

Jim as he was commonly called was the son of the late R. C. and Mariah Singleton, both of whom died many years ago leaving Jim as their only son and heir, and we believe he is the last of that family. He was a man that had many friends, and in that was liked by all who knew him, he was a soldier in the Spanish American war, and died at the old soldiers home in Johnson City, Tenn. where he has been for the past two or three years. His remains were brought here where he had long ago prepared a burying place for himself, father and mother in the city cemetery, where he was buried beside his father and mother.

He was a member of the Christian church, and had been a member for many years, he was for many years a member of the many Brass Bands in this city, the last being The Red Mens Band and was always found at his post when there was any kind of an engagement to fill.

There is none so rich that he cannot die, and none so poor that he cannot find a grave.

Hell is too good for some people who live in this town, they will talk about their neighbors, and say that they are good citizens, still they will build hog pens on the side of a street that would out-stink carrion in the summer time.

22% Oh You Pike 22%

Of all the cases of getting it easy, rather like getting money from home is the contract to build the pike from Harboursville, down the river to near W. H. Detherage's country home. The contract is that one gentleman from somewhere, not in Knox County, is to have 22% for each dollar of the County's money spent in the construction of the aforesaid piece of pike, he, the contractor to furnish all machinery for said purpose and the County to pay for labor. Well we are reliably informed that all the machinery the contractor has is some picks, about twenty in number, some fifteen or twenty shovels, and about fifteen mattocks, one road plow, they are now working about one hundred at one dollar and fifty cents a day, and that will net the gentleman who is supervising the work $33.00 per day besides the teams that are at work, that will cost the County at least fifty dollars more and this item will net him $11.00 more, added to the $33.00 makes $44.00 a day on an investment of just a few dollars.

He is attempting to do the work in the old style way, with picks and shovels, and by hauling the dirt on wagons, for several hundred yards, he has many hands to wait on the teams, that stands and waits until the wagons return. We are told that many of our county men will do the work for less than half the amount paid this fellow from Louisville, the new and improved wheel scrapers are not visible, neither are any of the other machinery that will actually build roads are in evidence.

At the gait they are going there is not enough money in the treasury to build the road down the river to the Whitley line, much less do anything elsewhere. We cannot understand this, but guess it is alright. When this road is completed we would suggest that a marble monument be erected with the following inscription thereon.

"Here is to the memory of old 22 per cent

The more he got the less he spent
The more he got the more he craved,

If he goes to Heaven we will all be saved."

We are now settling down to business, and we want to serve notice that we propose to talk about any and all persons that need talking about, and that we propose to fight for the betterment of the State, County and Town, and we will take the hide off of any and all who need it, and if you want to keep up with the times and see what is said about you and the other fellow you had better get into the habit of taking the County paper, for we will not spare any, we propose to expose any and all who do anything that needs it, and we will be apt to find it all out, you cannot dodge it, so come on in and give us encouragement by taking the paper, it will help you and us both.

From what Thomas Hubbard the road engineer says, the road overseers had better get busy, or there will be something doing, that they will remember,

Big Doin's at the Fair.

Don't be a knocker, it is all right for the Fair Company to go outside and get a Band, they get one from a distance it always brings that many more people to the Fair, and that of course helps things out, why not go out of the Town and County and attend the Fair, and let the Fair at home alone, it helps things, and beside all this go out of Knox County and have the people come from other Counties and bring the exhibits and take all the premiums that would encourage the people to go to other Counties to live and to spend their money beside all this the home hands will always be here any how to play for all the churches, School, Ladies Aids and any and all other occasions where there is no money to be paid, no use knocking, every body ought to go to the Fair and boost, tell every one what a bunch the directors are, and how well they love God, Home and Native land, tell every one that it is for the guy that comes along with a gold brick, and that the home bands ought to be ashamed of themselves to think of getting the job of playing for a fair right here at home when we can have one to come from a distance, for it helps that particular bunch of spaghetti eaters, that will not spend a cent here in Harboursville nor in Knox County, if these fool boys here at home was to play for the Fair next week they would go right straight and spend it with our merchants right here at home, and the merchants would go right straight and put it in one of our local banks, and that bank would loan it to some one of our farmers, or some business man and it would then go the round again, right here at home.

We don't need the money, let those ringsters that are coming have it, and we will get rid of it.

So when we need a band when we have a social for one of our churches, schools or for a funeral, we will get that bunch of fools who have set up at nights and rehearsed until late in the night preparing for occasions where they always play free, and when there is a money job we will go to some stranger and give it to him so that we will get rid of the money, and at the same time discourage all four of the home bands and get rid of them all if possible. So what's the use of knocking.

Murder

Is wrong, but it does look like that some people would have enough pride about them to cut the weeds in front of their place and not have the terrible sight it is for the passerby to look at. The law is plain, and the officers of the city ought to see to it that the weeds are cut, it would be better to abolish the stock law, and let every old cow in the County be turned loose and let them eat off the weeds and grass rather than have the unsightly things growing right under our noses. Harboursville has more loafers in it than any other town of its size in the State, and right in front of these loafers places is to be found the highest weeds and grass.

It may be that the city authorities may wake up some morning, and find that these weeds are not cut, then look out there will be something doing. You had better get busy someone might go before the board, or the Judge and have some moving around commence before you are aware of it.

There are some institutions within the confines of this city, that have had some free boosting and advertising, whole pages at a time, but when they have job work, they go to other places to have it done, wonder if we had charged full rates of 45.00 a page for this free advertising, where they would have had their pay jobs done?

FARMER BOYS' ENCAMPMENT

Proud Sons of a Proud State to Occupy Tented City on Kentucky State Fair Grounds

FARM BOYS IN CAMP.

THE Farm Boys' Encampment, one of the most important as well as picturesque features of the Kentucky State Fair, annually brings to this agricultural and live stock celebration a juvenile representative from the 120 counties of the state.

To the boy standing sponsor for his home section the trip is an epoch and the honor much coveted and striven for. Heretofore the eligible boys were selected from farm boys between the ages of fifteen and eighteen years and through written competitive examinations submitted to a committee composed of a member of the State Board of Agriculture and of the faculty of the Agricultural College.

This year a new ruling requires that the boy competing for the trip and consequent honors and pleasures must be a member of either the Boys' Corn Club or the Boys' Pig Club of his county and must each grow one acre of corn or raise one pig as a minimum effort and must keep a daily record of the cost and other data. Boys eligible to this contest must be between the ages of ten and eighteen years, and no boy having attended an encampment in prior years will be considered.

No county will be permitted to enter this contest with less than fifteen members, and where the question of substitution arises the board will consider first the pig club boys in the counties that have corn clubs organized. Where there are no corn clubs or pig clubs organized the board reserves the right to appoint substitutes from other counties.

B. G. Nelson of Hopkinsville, Ky., is state agent for the Boys' Corn Clubs, and Otis Kercher of Lexington, Ky., is state agent for the Boys' Pig Clubs, and boys desiring to enter either of both of these clubs should immediately notify the respective agents at the above addresses, and upon receipt of their names all necessary instructions and rulings will be forwarded to them.

The purpose of the Farm Boys' Encampment at the State Fair is to extend the educational advantages of the Fair through the farming districts of the entire state, and the results growing from the three former encampments have been highly encouraging. During the week of their stay here the boys are guests of the Fair and in their "tented city" on the grounds are provided with every comfort as well as entertained by the wonders of the celebration. The judging contests to which they are eligible are of innumerable educational advantage, and the delegates are also taken on sightseeing excursions to the manufactories and show places of the city of Louisville.

THE WOMAN'S SHOP

Unique Market For Feminine Wares at the Kentucky
State Fair, Sept. 13-18

ALTHOUGH the feminist movement is daily and more and more universally demonstrating the fact that women are qualified to engage in any pursuit, calling or occupation heretofore individual to man, it is not to be inferred that the arts, handicrafts and handiworks heretofore associated solely with the gentler sex are to be neglected. Rather are they to be fostered in accordance with the views of representative women of the state, and in furtherance of this design a Woman's Shop has been instituted as a feature of the plans for the Kentucky State Fair, to be held in Louisville Sept. 13-18.

This shop will be located in the Woman's building on the Fair grounds, but will not be auxiliary to the competitive exhibitions of the Women's Department. Rather, the shop is designed as a salesroom or "clearing house" for every variety of useful and beautiful article made by womankind, and such products as embroideries, bedspreads, rugs, table covers, pottery, jewelry, lamp shades, household or garden furniture, baskets, draperies, etc., may be entered free of charge in this shop and ticketed at the owner's valuation for a possible sale which will be without any commission charge to Fair management or members in charge.

Articles entered for sale in the Woman's Shop are not eligible for competition in the catalogued classes. Articles must be sent at the owner's risk and will be carefully cared for and returned if unsold at the close of Fair week.

The idea of the Woman's Shop is new and individual to the Kentucky State Fair. It was conceived by Commissioner of Agriculture John W. Newman and enthusiastically endorsed by the committee in charge, of which Mrs. S. Thurston Ballard is chairman and the following ladies are members: Mrs. J. A. Mitchell, Bowling Green; Mrs. Stirling L. Marshall, Henderson; Miss Edna Doltinger, Louisville; Mrs. Barbour Minnerode, Louisville; Mrs. Avery Robinson, Louisville; Mrs. Leonard A. Hewett, Louisville; Mrs. Peter Lee Atherton, Louisville; Mrs. Richard Knott, Louisville; Mrs. Richard Ernst, Covington; Mrs. R. P. Halleck, Louisville; Mrs. W. L. Mills, Owensboro; Mrs. George A. Armstrong, Shelbyville; Mrs. Anna Eernberg, Berea; Mrs. Helm Bruce, Louisville; Miss Amanda Rodes, Danville; Mrs. Harry Bishop, Louisville; Mrs. Alfred Brandels, Louisville; Miss Mary F. Hutcraft, Paris; Mrs. R. C. Ford, Middlesboro; Mrs. Sam Hoyle, Louisville; Mrs. Paul Creel, Louisville, and Mrs. T. J. Smith, Frankfort.

Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Smith of Frankfort is the chairman of a promotion committee which will have representatives in every city and rural district in the state. An especial effort will be made to enlist the interest of the basket weavers and needleworkers of the mountains. Only residents of Kentucky are eligible for entry.

For entry blanks and further information address communications to Woman's Shop, State Fair offices, Paul Jones building, Louisville, Ky.

Star "Sidewheelers" to Strive For World's Records at Kentucky State Fair

THE finest track and fastest performers in the country will make of the trotting and pacing events for the thirteenth annual Kentucky State Fair, Sept. 13-18, the greatest exhibitions of the kind in fair history. The entries for the track program closed June 1, with 140 contestants listed. This number breaks all former records and assures Fair visitors one of the most elaborate as well as high class showings of "sidewheelers" in history.

The entire list is made up of the creme de la creme of trotting and pacing horseflesh, and among the "cracks" who will compete for honors and try for world's records will be Hugh Miller, the sensational three-year-old who broke all records last year at the Kentucky State Fair by trotting a half mile in 2:11 1/4. Ham Patterson will also be "among those present." He won the $1,000 trotting stake last year in 2:14. Another star will be Ophelia.

The great trotting mare who has already made 2:08 1/2 during the early part of this season. Joe H. has "won his spurs" on the fastest half mile tracks in Ohio and Michigan, and Bonnie Boy likewise has proved his class on the grand circuit.

The track events will include two colt tryouts for two and three year old trotters with a purse of $500 each. These features are rendered doubly interesting from the fact that there is always a possibility of developing another world's wonder like Ettawah, who made his first appearance as a two-year-old on the Kentucky State Fair track and who has since proved to be the fastest trotter in existence today.

The rules of the National Trotting Association govern the Kentucky State Fair track events. R. J. Bassett of Leitchfield is the member in charge of the Speed Department, and C. H. Van Meter of Lebanon is the Superintendent.

Coming Soon

John Robinson's big shows will be here on the 9th day of September, and all who have an opportunity to see this show will not regret that they come, for it is the oldest and best show on the road.

When you get to the Knox County Fair, and the band is playing Dixie, lets all hum "Home Sweet Home", it will add greatly the Spagetti Band, that they will have to render the music.

Be careful as you go along the streets and do not bend or break any of the flowers that are taking possession of walks, we need these beautiful flowers, they help the looks of things, and then the persons who live in the property along there would not like for anyone to do anything to these "flowers" which consist of wild weeds, running briars and grass. Why don't you clean up some?

Are you going to the big tent show next week, they will arrive on the 30th and will be right on the job that night, if it is as good as advertised, it will be some show.

SMITH

We have just learned of the death George A. Smith, who moved from this city to Lawton, Okla. He died suddenly and was buried at that place. We regret to hear of this death as we have been associated with George for a long time and have had many pleasant times with him, he was one of the best hearted and kindest fellows we ever knew.

George A. was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hugh Smith, of this city. He was married to Miss Maude Gilbert several years ago, who survives him. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Smith, as well as to his sister and brothers and especially to the widow and son.

The man who has his advertisement in the papers always gets the business, why don't you try it. We will run your ad. for you, if you will let us, and let the people know what you have for sale.

There were many people in the city last Saturday, it looked as though everyone had special business with some one else, and that they were all pressed for time in which to do the work they had in front of them, looks like business of some kind is getting good in and around town.
